FUNDING ALERT

LLOYDS TSB FOUNDATION SCOTLAND CLOSES THE DOOR TO NEW APPLICATIONS

The Lloyds TSB Foundation for Scotland has announced that it is suspending its grant-making activities for the foreseeable future. However, the Foundation will fully honour existing commitments to charities and will make final awards in December as planned.

Established in 1985, the Foundation has made 12,000 awards amounting to almost £85 million to charities working with disadvantaged communities and people across Scotland. An independent organisation and one of the leading charitable funders in Scotland, it is funded from Lloyds Banking Group's pre-tax profits but the losses predicted by the Group mean that there are virtually no monies due to the Foundation in the coming year, which has forced Trustees to close the door to new applications indefinitely.
