FUNDING ALERT

Resilience Fund for the Third Sector

Deadline for applications : 4 December 2009

The Scottish Government has announced a new £1.7 million Resilience Fund for third sector organisations affected by the recession. Resilience Fund Grants of between £10,000 and £100,000 will be available to third sector organisations that can demonstrate how the recession has led to increased demand on their services, or caused cash flow difficulties. Applicants will require to show that, prior to the recession, they were viable organisations and submit details of their proposed solution.

The fund will be open for five weeks from late October and closes on 4 December 2009.
