A OVERALL ORGANISATION AIMS

Summary of Key Aims & Objectives

To offer easily accessible information and advice on money matters and financial wellbeing to cancer patients, their carers and families living in the Forth Valley area and to increase income available to these client groups.

List of Agreed Outcomes

Increase the income of cancer sufferers and their families living in the Forth Valley area by providing debt management and benefit advice. This enhances the lives of those affected by ensuring that their financial wellbeing is secured at a time of a diagnosis of cancer and that individuals remain financially included.

Why Service/Project is Funded Externally Rather than by the Council

The project advisors understand the experiences and needs of cancer patients and their families and are trained to give expert advice to people experiencing these difficult circumstances and can ensure that the person has easy access to other Macmillan services. The project also has direct links with health professionals, which means they get referred at the point of diagnosis and are seen quickly. The project receives referrals for specialist advice to cancer sufferers and their families from Falkirk Council's Advice Service. The local CABx make referrals on occasion to the project but will normally deal with applicants themselves, normally because they have established a relationship previously with the individual or because they are also offering a range of other advice services to the individual so it is preferable that the CAB advisor deals with all aspects, including, where relevant making grant applications to Macmillan on behalf of clients.

B ACTUAL PERFORMANCE vs. OBJECTIVES / AGREED OUTCOMES

Summary of Key Achievements

For the financial year 2011-2012, the project helped support 1417 of cancer patients / their families living in the Forth Valley area. The project was successful in generating additional income of £3,333,452 for these clients.

In the Falkirk Council area, 805 of clients were assisted and £1,846,789 of additional income secured.

We are awaiting the final outcome figures for the last quarter of 2012/13 but for the period 1.4.12 to 31.12.12, the project helped support 492 individuals and generated £1,324,815 of additional income for these people.

Summary of Key Issues/ Challenges Facing Organisation

The project is managed by Stirling Council. The council has undertaken a re-organisation of its advice services with a view to outsourcing these in the future. The Money Matters Project is affected by this but service managers are ensuring a continuation of service throughout the change period. It is expected that the project will be up to full strength again and advisers in situ in Falkirk again by the end of August.

How has Organisation Contributed to Council/ Service Priorities

The project has contributed to the following Council's Poverty Action Outcome of providing support to some of our most vulnerable citizens and improving their financial security by maximising the income of those households and improving benefit uptake and debt management.

This project enhances the lives of its service users by ensuring that their financial wellbeing is secured at a time of a diagnosis of cancer. By ensuring that individuals remain financially included, the project's intervention ensures that benefit income continues to be claimed from central government and utilised within local communities.
