Comment Details

Commenter Type: Neighbour

Stance: Customer objects to the Planning Application

Comment Reasons:

Comment: My objection is that the caravan appeared overnight and without any planning permission. Does this mean we will wake up one morning to find a house built that also has no planning permission?

I think refusal should be made purely because not doing so makes an absolute mockery of your planning department in the first place.

This seems to happen persistently in this area, with people building and then assuming permission will be given retrospectively.

Why bother having a planning permission process in the first place if those people who are meant to control it don't implement the rules.
