Date:                    25 August 2020

Submitted By:        Director of Corporate & Housing Services

1.        Purpose of Report

- 1.1        An application has been received from Falkirk Made Friends for funding towards a project to produce short films, leaflets and booklets on Falkirk's industrial legacy.

2.        Recommendations

- 2.1        The Committee is asked to consider:-

(1) The application for funding of £5,875 from Falkirk Common Good Fund to Falkirk Made Friends towards this project.

3.        Background

- 3.1        Falkirk Made Friends is primarily concerned with creatively stimulating public interest in Falkirk's industrial legacy, its innovations and their effects on social history. Regular monthly meetings have been held in the Dawson Centre from September 2019 onwards. There are 6 Committee Members. Ian Scott, the Falkirk historian, has provided support to the group.
- 3.2        The project aims to produce short films that dramatise individual and community stories that reveal the contribution of those who made some innovative contributions to society. These stories will be set against the historical legacy of the iron and engineering history. Leaflets and information booklets will complement the films and add further historical information.
- 3.3        A few examples of envisaged stories and recounts are on the following subjects:
'The history of the cast iron phone box from the view of the makers',
'Logie Baird's TV experiment in Falkirk told by an eyewitness', and ‘How the Carron Company inspired innovation in Scotland told by local residents’.

- 3.4 The group would like these short films to be uploaded on the internet to encourage local and other interest in the discovery of Falkirk’s iron and engineering heritage achievements. Hopefully, this will attract visitors to the local area.
- 3.5 It is anticipated that the publications within this project will eventually be self-financing. By publishing them with ISBN numbers and barcodes they can be purchased by libraries and they can be sold to the public through local venues, online and in bookshops.
- 3.6 The following information has been provided as a breakdown of the project costs and the funding sought from Falkirk Common Good Fund:
